Dear Hal,

Today "the internet" is to blame. It's those web sites!

The Media should blame itself! Who has contributed more to the climate of public distrust? How many stories can you "leave" and keep the public's faith?

I have no idea why The N.Y. Times, The L.A. Times, and Washington Post tried to knock down The CIA crack story. The effort only underscored their own credibility. This story goes back a quarter of a century to Alfred McCoy's "The Politics of Heroin in Southeast Asia" published in 1972!

I just read William Pepper's claim on 20/20 that Marcello took a government contract for $1000 to Bill King!

Pepper stole this from "Magic Kingdisk" by Davis. What garbage! The Magic are corrupt businessmen. They wouldn't touch Billing King!

Ray is dying. His two books are dishonest. He still hasn't "developed". Perhaps, he was a minor player.

Pepper's creatability is zero.

Sincerely,

EC
